Packing and Shipping:

Packaging and Shipping for Short Human Hair Wigs

Short human hair wigs are shipped and packaged in airtight, corrugated cardboard boxes. The box should be large enough to hold the wig, with extra space for any accessories that may have been included. The box should also be securely sealed and labeled with the product name, the customer's address, and shipping information.

Inside the box, the wig should be carefully wrapped in tissue paper and placed in a plastic bag that is sealed with tape. This will protect the wig from being damaged during shipping. The plastic bag should also be labeled with the product name and customer's address. The wig should also be placed in a padded envelope or plastic bag for additional protection. The padded envelope or plastic bag should also be labeled with the product name and customer's address.

All packages should be shipped via a reliable carrier such as UPS, FedEx, or USPS. The customer's address should be clearly printed on the shipping label, and the package should be insured for the full value of the product.
